NEW ORLEANS TOUGH TOWNBy N. M.

Would El Paso Emulate This Example?

New Orleans is an object lesson of the evil effects of racing and the loose morals which accompany it. New Orleans has been the running race center of the south for years and has been the dumping ground for all of the disreputable characters in the game since the track was built.

The same hardened faces that were seen on the streets and around the betting ring of the Juarez track may be seen on Canal street in New Orleans any day and some of the same persons who were here last winter for the late unlamented race meeting are to be seen around the Louisiana city selling souvenirs and profane postcards to the crowds as a means of making a living between the racing seasons.

Depravity in All Forms

Those who claim that racing and its accompanying carnival of gambling is a good thing for a city, should have been on Canal street last Thursday afternoon during the reproduction of the Mardi Gras, which was arranged for the entertainment of the Shriners. From 6 o'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening all the crooks and tough characters were given license to parade before a crowd of decent people. Things were to be seen on the streets in broad daylight that would shock the moral sense of any sane person. Women appeared half clad and alley negroes paraded the streets in suggestive costumes and with their faces and hands covered to disguise their color. When the 6 o'clock limit had expired the maskers were ordered off the streets by the police but were to be seen in the restaurants and on the side streets until after midnight.

Accumulation of Vice

This accumulation of vice in New Orleans is one of the direct results of the encouragement of racing and similar occupations which attract the disreputable characters from all parts of the country. Each year these undesirable citizens flock to New Orleans for the racing season in order to get in on a little of the easy money which is the lure of the race track. Each year when the races close, a large percent of this horde of human driftwood is left there to make a living in any way possible until the racing opens again. Spoiled for honest work by the easy money around the track, these characters seek to live by every possible hook or crook. Robberies, holdups and similar crimes result.

Shall We Imitate New Orleans?

El Paso is just starting with the races in Juarez. Although they have been running but one season, the police records show a decided increase in crime. Each year when the races open, a flock of these undesirable will come to El Paso, as they have been going to New Orleans for years. Each year when the races close across the river, a horde of camp followers will be dumped on El Paso because they are broke and cannot continue indefinitely as it will with the continuance of the races in Juarez. El Paso may expect to see the same elvish conditions existing as exist at the present time in New Orleans, where morals are lax and where a carnival of disreputable characters is permitted each year.

STRUCK BY BALL AND KILLED

Freeburg, Ill., April 19.—Struck over the heart by a pitched ball, William Schmidt, following players' instinct, took a few steps toward the first sack and dropped dead here today. Schmidt was first baseman for the local team, meeting death in a game with St. Louis. A coroner's jury was empaneled on the field and the chosen fans rendered a verdict of accidental death. The St. Louis pitcher was absolved from blame. Schmidt was 28 years of age.

NEW BALL LEAGUE POSSIBLE

Chicago, Ill., April 19.—A new league is being planned. It will comprise Chicago, Kansas City, Philadelphia, New York city, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Boston. Henry C. Osterman, a Chicago semipro magnate, is the man behind the gun, but such names as James J. Callahan, Andy Coakley, "Jiggs" Donohue, John G. Kling are mentioned. Osterman says that already queries have been sent to the cities mentioned relative to the immediate formation of the league.

JAPANESE BALL PLAYERS

CHALLENGE AMERICAN TEAM

Chicago, Ill., April 19.—The Waseda university of Japan has invited Chicago university baseball players to visit the Oriental institution next fall for a series of games. It is understood that the American institution board favors the visit, which will be made at the expense of the Japs. The Waseda officials plan to visit Chicago in the spring.

MORENCI TEAM IN

Defeats the Clifton Players,
Who Have Not Had Practice Enough.

(By L. R. Crawford).

Morenci, Ariz., April 18.—Morenci defeated Clifton in the first clash of the season, 11 to 6. Despite the fact that it was stated as an exhibition game, a large crowd turned out, including a big delegation of Clifton rooters. Morenci outplayed Clifton in every stage of the game and won out in rather hollow style. The local team is going in mid-season form, while on the other hand Clifton showed lack of team work and bad throws were plentiful.

Ashley, who started off on the slab for Morenci, was very effective, but Cummings who relieved him was wild and only the left edge support he received held Clifton down.

Stanley, who started for Clifton, comes from the east and is not yet used to the altitude. He wore himself out in the first four innings and then Morenci put the game on ice. Clifton finished the game but also got his share of the bumps. It was only during the last two innings that Clifton showed any kind of form when they out Morenci's big lead down, but the rally came too late.

Bingles and Bunts

By CAB

The umpire is a most unhappy man.

Ask Jacobs.

Ballplayers should never talk to the grandstand, it makes them unpopular.

Mathewson's name is not Christy, and he doesn't act like it, either.

Those gales, Mr. Groundkeeper, what are they for? The crowd will not run out until the game is over. Open them.

Gowan is doing some fine stick work this season.

Hewitt is still out of the game on account of a bad ankle.

Kernan will have to get some ginger if he expects to make good.

The meal tickets are not so plentiful and the pitchers better warm up and get into the game.

Harben ought to take a few Turkish baths and get rid of some of that fat; he can't go nine innings in his present condition.

El Paso got only half as many hits as Douglas Sunday, but should have won the game at that.

The crowd in the grandstand is growing as the car service is being improved.

as well as in grand physical condition.

Treating Nervous Center.

"I have in my trunk quite a bit of paraphernalia for ascertaining nervous faults and will use the appliances on the big fellow. I have a new form of therapeutic lamp that will be used in diagnosis and remedy."

"For years I have remained stationary in weight, and only weigh 167 pounds today. But I am gaining in weight. I have applied the nervous center treatment upon myself—despite the fact I thought I was about the heaviest man in the world—and it is resulting in a gain of flesh. But I'll be pretty light to meet the onslaughts of a 225 lb. boxer. There will be no malice or grudge work in our boxing, but I'll try to hit him and he will try to hit me. I will not wear a pneumatic pad over my heart. It will be my task to keep him from landing those crushing blows."

REAL BALL BUG BACK WITH FANS.

Big Bill Crawford has returned from Tucson and Los Angeles, where he has been spending the past six weeks. Bill has been out of baseball as much as the law allows, but the bug is in the blood with him and he talks, eats and sleeps the national game wherever he is.

While in Los Angeles he discovered in the recesses of the Hollis hotel by G. H. Clements and Col. George tipped off to the Los Angeles newspaper men that a real, live baseball man from the desert league country was in town. In some way it leaked out that S. William was in quest of players for this neck of the country and a mob of favorite sons, star performers, eighth wonders and phenoms went galloping into his abiding place in the big hotel, looking for bad, board and Bull Durham smoking for the summer season. Bill modestly but firmly declined each and all offers.

From Los Angeles Crawford went to San Francisco and to Jeffries' training camp at Ben Lomond and had it slipped to him on the quiet that the big fellow was not working overtime in training for the fight with the big dingo and that he would not get down to brass carpet clenchers until a month before the match. Returning by way the Grand Canyon, Crawford is now a member of the fan colony and has a favorite seat on the shady side of the grand stand for the season.

AMATEUR BALL PLAYERS.

The Herald wants to print all the news about amateur ball games in El Paso; those already played or to be played. Bring in your notices about future games and reports of games played, if they are played on Sunday, send the report to The Herald Sunday afternoon or early Monday. All reports must be signed by the person sending them in, but the names will not be printed.

Every family and especially those who reside in the country should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of colds, croup, sprains and bruises. Sold by all druggists.

The sun is strong in right field and Kernan is not used to it, but he may get there yet.

Jackson never touched the sphere Sunday, but he had to rest after Saturday's swatfest.

Double plays always make a hit with the grandstand.

El Paso will soon have a real live umpire. Jacobs is obliging, but he has been out of the game too long.

The boys on the fence are roosting high and enjoying the game. It is a good idea to keep them all away from the players' bench.

"Go-on-now" is about the way the name of the new umpire will be pronounced; it is easy enough.

When having pictures made why not get the best?

Our special for this week is just the thing to show off that new gown. Nothing better can be had in town for double the money.
